CLERK: Do you want me to read the title of the other bill then?

PRESIDENT: Alright, lets read the title to the other bill so that the two can be considered the same.

CLERK: (Read)

PRESIDENT: Alright before we consider those I think we should go back to 193, Senator Syas's bill and does the Chair understand that there are no committee amendments?

CLERK: That is right.

PRESIDENT: On 193, but there is a motion relating to it?

CLERK: Yes.

PRESIDENT: What is that motion?

CLERK: To kill.

PRESIDENT: Very good. Senator Syas, you may of course explain you bill first before we take up the motion.

SENATOR SYAS: Am I the only one who gets to explain the bill before we take up a motion to kill?

PRESIDENT: Senator Carpenter?

SENATOR CARPENTER: May I ask who introduced the motion to kill?

CLERK: Senator Kelly.

SENATOR CARPENTER: May I ask Senator Kelly. In view of the suggestion that I made a short time ago, would you have any objections to withdrawing your motion until we get through discussing both bills? You would be in the same position anyway except Senator Syas don't want to be the only one to talk for the bill.

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President and members of the body. This doesn't take away my kill motion?

PRESIDENT: No, and then motions are in order anytime Senator Kelly, it is alright, it is a matter of SENATOR KELLY: Of getting an open discussion all the way?

PRESIDENT: Well right, if we take up your kill motion and then something should happen to this bill, we can't consider the two as kind of a package, I think is the problem. In other words, if you will just withdraw your motion here temporarily or until after the explanations of both bills have been had then your motion is still in order, and the Chair will persevere your right to that, I will protect you that way, there is no problem there, it is a matter of routine procedure here that as it stands now Senator Syas will explain his bill and then we would have to debate your motion to kill and then that is in relation to the next bill coming up so the two couldn't be compared together.
